THEME: YOUR '62 A'GUILA

As the sands of time trickle away the passing hours, some moments will linger with us forever in memory.

Days will inevitably pass and with them must pass the hours spent at C.V. In order to recapture some of the pleasure of the past, this 1962 Aguila records the greater events so that, perhaps, some of lesser incidents may be recalled.

In turning the pages of this book in years to come, we live again this school year. The laughter, the work, and the pleasures of this will long be remembered as the happiest hours of our lives.

To the passing of time and the memories it leaves, this book is devoted.

As Students of Clayton Valley High School we have reaped many benefits. It has been a privilege to attend such a fine institution and we look with gratitude to our parents and teachers for making this privilege possible. Their hands have been willing, capable and strong, directing us into worthwhile paths, teaching us the full meaning of "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."

At Clayton Valley our minds have been nourished with knowledge and our characters strengthened. As citizens of tomorrow we shall strive onward with deeds of wisdom, demonstrating our gratitude for all we have gained at this our school, Clayton Valley High.

DIRECTOR OF TIME

"Dost thou love life? Then do not squander time, for that is the stuff life is made of." —— Franklin

Knute Rockne, the great Notre Dame football coach, was eulogized as a "go-giver." He actively and efficiently used his time, not with the idea of getting all he could for himself, but to help others spend their time profitably.

Time is the theme of The 1962 A'guila. A rich life is based upon the wise use of one's time. Today's youth has an opportunity before it for rich living, because Democracy needs real go-givers of time for the service of others.

MR. DELLA'S MESSAGE

Congratulations are certainly in order to our Yearbook Staff and Advisor, Mrs. Innes, for presenting us with another outstanding production of the A'guila. Congratulations are also in order to the entire Student Body for the many achievements accomplished during this past year. You have preserved the high standards established by the students during our first three years of existence as a school. These standards are especially reflected by those graduates who are pursuing higher education and making such outstanding records. These records are rewarding and gratifying to the faculty and administration. We take great pride in such accomplishments, and share in the success and happiness of these alumni who helped us lay the foundation for the high standards we are now enjoying.

Our goal is to maintain these standards so that we may always be proud of our Alma Mater. With the cooperation, attitude, and spirit of belonging displayed by each member of our Student Body, we cannot fail in maintaining and adding to our past record.

May this yearbook which represents the history in pictures of our past school year, 1961-1962, serve to revive many fond memories in the future as you enjoy continued success. Best wishes in your venture toward achieving your goal.

Appreciatively yours,

CLAYTON VALLEY CAPTURES NUMEROUS BAND AWARDS

This year there are over one-hundred students in the band. To get into the band you must have the consent of the band leader, Mr. Frank Cavoto. In addition to band there is a dance band and a rally band.

The Clayton Valley band has won many honors, some being: a second place at the Concord Pow Wow, an invitation to the State Fair, a first place at the Danville Hay Day, a one-hundred dollar check for first place at the Grape Festival in Lodi.

The rally band has done much to boost Clayton Valley High School's spirit at our rallies for our basketball games.

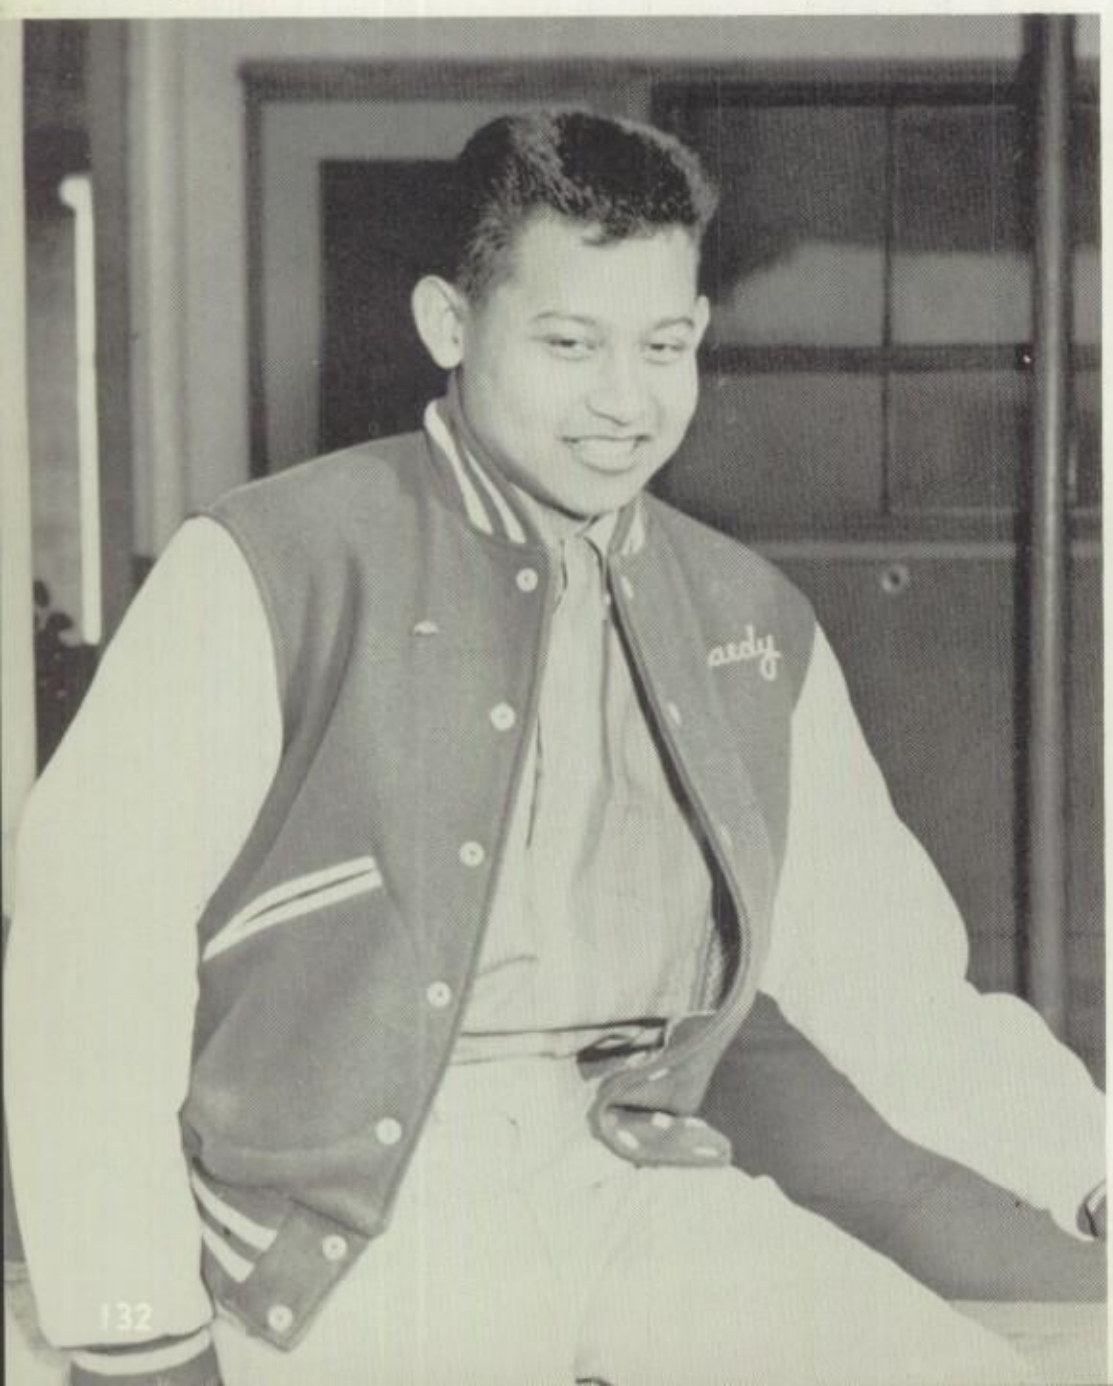
BAEDY REVERES JAVA, LIKES AMERICAN WAYS . . .

With a curious mixture of strong national pride and a warm appreciation of things American, UBEADY FADHIL, an 18-year-old exchange student from JAVA, INDONESIA, has thrown himself into student activities at Clayton Valley High School.

While he is eagerly absorbing American culture and steeping himself in the study of American law and jurisprudence with the single goal of arming himself with knowledge for the benefit of his own country, he is also taking on American ways. He appears on the campus jaunty and debonair in a scarlet school jacket, a gift from his senior classmates, on which his nickname, "Baedy" is embroidered.

Baedy describes his future in terms of what he can do for his country and views the whole idea of attending an American school for his senior year as a means to that specific goal.



Baedy will graduate next spring with the Clayton Valley senior class then return to his homeland where he will enroll in the University of Indonesia.

Baedy finds American ways different and exciting but not difficult to adopt. He comes from a family of 14 children and his father is a businessman, operating a produce company.

Leaving Jakarta, August 19, 1961, Baedy embarked on his first plane trip. His itinerary included Singapore and Honolulu and he was obviously impressed by the fact that a mere 45 hours after taking off from Indonesia he was landing at Los Angeles.

During his American visit Baedy is residing with Mr. and Mrs. John B. Sack, 3698 Wren Ave. His American brother is Shelly Sack, a junior at Clayton Valley High School.

PEP CLUB

HECTOR VACCARO—Chilean exchange student

EXCHANGE TIME

Hector Vaccaro, 18 year old exchange student from Chile, was guest at CVHS. Hector was an exchange student at Citrus Heights, Sacramento.

For one week, Barbara Christianson, senior, and her family adopted Hector. He comes from quite a wealthy family in Concepcion, Chile. His parents own a ranch outside of town with a houseful of servants and also there is a theater on the ranch. He and his brothers and three sisters had a house in town in which they lived during the school months.

In 1960, Hector graduated from a parochial high school, Saerados Corazones, in Concepcion. Each student there takes 14 classes, but the students have little or no choice of what they take in high school.

IN MEMORIAM
TOM ELLING

I knew him well; we fenced at many a bout
As boys; jested, as you and I do now.
He was my friend before, till fame reached out
And laid the wreath of laurel on his brow.

And now he walks in kingly paths, and seeks
Only such friends as kings desire to own;
Now, with his head held high, he boldly speaks
Of visions. But he walks no more alone.

The friends that gather at the beck of fame
Feed on the glamour of his brief renown.
Among this crowd I found him, spoke his name
And sought to add a jewel to his crown

With word well-turned. Though my intent was fair,
Between us two the message went astray—
His answer strangely smote the empty air;
Somehow there was so little left to say.

He does not mean, I fancy, to forget;
A wound is quite the last thing he'd intend.
The cunning world but trapped him in her net
Of shining fame . . . and I have lost a friend.

Next Thursday, the Pilgrims Thanksgiving Day will once more be celebrated. No longer are we in a new land; no longer must we depend on wild game for our food.

This does not mean, however, that we should forget to thank God for our blessing, and also to pray for what the future holds for us.

Remember this, before the vis- ions of turkeys and pumpkin pies fill your heads this Thanksgiving.

AGUILA FAREWELL

The book is finished and the year draws to a close. Ahead lies graduation, proms, summer vacation, summer jobs, and, for many, the plans and preparation for higher learning and a college education. The '62 AGUILA STAFF has sought to build a book which would in a special way reflect the high standards of CLAYTON VALLEY HIGH SCHOOL. As the halls grow dim and the classrooms quiet, we hope this book will bring back the memories of this year and hold CLAYTON VALLEY HIGH forever in your memory.
